GET READY FOR NEW OPPORTUNITIES . . .

The sweeping upward revision in our tax structure will cause an upheaval in the ability of individual corporations to pay regular and special dividends and will bring drastic changes in price-earnings ratios, which will be reflected in stock prices.

Aggressive and foresighted corporate managements alert to maintain upward earnings trend will seize new profitable opportunities to satisfy defense needs and civilian demand, improve cost controls and substitute new materials where shortages exist. The shares of such companies will offer you rich rewards in capital gains and liberal income—especially if you purchase them upon our specific recommendation at “bargain levels” in the new major buying zone.

The original studies we are carrying on at all times into the influences that govern security price trends, are pointing to shifts which cannot be ignored by the prudent investor. The market is going to record a reappraisal and adjustment of stock values that will culminate in a new major buying point in the not too distant future.
